

Top five reasons why your team needs Efecte IGA

The time for a new approach to IAM is now

Identity & Access Management (IAM) projects are often complex and costly initiatives, mainly driven by large scale customizations and system integrations. The market is characterized by long implementation times, with process changes that require executive sponsorship and solutions optimized for large enterprises.

Nevertheless, today's increase in remote work, threat landscape, EU regulations and digitalization have driven many small and medium organizations to speed up the introduction of robust IAM practices. But they often need to consider more affordable and easier alternatives than the traditional IAM system offerings. Whether you're starting to think of your IAM journey or searching for a better solution, here's why Efecte IAM approach is right for you:

1 Easy deployment & low cost of ownership

- Start in weeks, with the essential processes
- Low up-front investment
- Low code, no code principles

2 Unified solution for IAM & ITSM use cases

- Sustainable investment
